1.6 EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES

1.6.1. The INSTITUTO CULTURAL FILARMÔNICA offers the "Laboratório de Regência" and the "Festival Tinta Fresca" as Educational Activities.

1.6.2. The "Laboratório de Regência" is a Project that aims to stimulate the formation of new generations of conductors in Brazil. It enables young conductors to participate in practical workshops with the OFMG regent. Will also be selected conductors who will have the opportunity to conduct the OFMG, learning in practice the challenges of conducting and experiencing conducting a professional orchestra.

1.6.3. The "Festival Tinta Fresca" Project were created in 2008 to encourage music made in the present, by enabling Brazilian composers to submit music scores of unpublished works. The selected works are performed by the Orquestra Filarmônica in a concert open to the public, in a process in which the composers follow the rehearsals and can talk about the compositions with musicians, conductor and commission. As a prize, the winner of the Festival receives an order to prepare a work to be premiered in a future season of the Orquestra Filarmônica.

1.6.4. "Concertos Didáticos" is an educational project that aims form audiences for symphonic music in partnership with State and Municipal public schools. It involves carrying out educational activities at their premises focused on the history and appreciation of symphonic music and its instruments. The project culminates with a concert at Sala Minas Gerais dedicated to raising awareness of art importance and culture for an audience experiencing a symphony concert for the first time.

1.6.5. "Academia Filarmônica" is a high-level educational project whose objective is to prepare and improve musicians of symphonic instruments, in order to contribute to their professional performance in Brazil and abroad. The project comes to fill the gap between the musicians' individual technical mastery and the necessary qualification required by a professional orchestra. The Academia Filarmônica aims at the technical-musical improvement of young people from 15 (fifteen) years old on, with high artistic potential, admitted through a selection process. The Academy's goal is to be a reference course in the country, lasting three years, to train the participants, increasing their opportunities to enter this job market.
